

Real Indiana Amish Country Housewives Sample Itinerary

Soap making at Bender's Camel Dairy Farm

Joann is an important part of this family business. She uses the milk from their camel dairy and 3 natural oils to make their special camel milk soap. Visit with Joann as she explains how the business started. Watch as she demonstrates her tried and true process of soap making.

Cinnamon Roll demo in an Amish Home

Elaine ones knows how to cook! She began her banquet business while her children tugged at her apron strings. Now her son Seth is taking the reins. She has many specialties but one of our favorites is her cinnamon rolls. Fundraiser favorites they've raise many a dollar for a good cause. She'll show you the easy way of making them while you enjoy coffee and a delicious cinnamon roll. Take some home with you.

Basket weaving demo

Anna is philosophical about her family business and often comments, "We weave our way through life one day at a time." Born of opportunity, she began to weave baskets for a local RV manufacturer. Now her talents stay a little closer to home on her family farm. These masterful weavers will expertly explain the process of turning plain reed into a thing of beauty and function.

Soup and Salad lunch at Amish home

Enjoy a light lunch - menu options available

Amish Resale Shop

Meet Norma, an Amish housewife who began her business on the family farmstead when she finally got all her children in school. She calls her shop the Crowded Closet and specializes in gently used clothes, mainly Amish made dresses, men's pants and jackets and children's clothing. She'll explain how she got her start and the impact this business has had on her family and the community around her.

Visit with an Amish School teacher

Hear about a day in the life an Amish school teacher. She arrives early by horse and buggy, lesson plans in hand for her students--grades 1 thru 8. Listen and learn from the Amish perspective.

Cooking lesson at an Amish home with afternoon snacks

How do they make that peanut butter pie and that delicious Church peanut butter spread? See how Carolyn makes her light as a cloud peanut butter pie and enjoy a slice for yourself with afternoon coffee or tea.